Save Nanoseconds, Save the Company!

HELPFUL HINTS FROM NAN O'SAVER

Look, down in your DPS! It's a Post-It! It's a Mail-Topper! It's a Nanosaver!

Nan Says...

Never cross sevens to distinguish them from twos

Savings = 10,000 nanos

Nan Says...

Tell accountable clerk to keep that three cents change

Savings = 70,000 nanos

Nan Says...

Relocate scanner holster to sternum

Savings = 60,000 nanos

Nan Says...

Only check right or left turn signal on any given morning

Savings = 80,000 nanos

Nan Says...

Waste any mail addressed to pets

Savings = 65,000 nanos

Nan Says...

Abbrev whenev possbl

Savings = 45,000 nanos

Nan Says...

Keep rubber thumb on during lunch

Savings = 40,000 nanos

Nan Says...

During afternoon nap, eliminate last →

zzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzz

Savings = 15,000 nanos

Nan Says...

At commitment time, blurt out first thing that comes to mind

Savings = 90,000 nanos

Nan Says...

Ignore little square things that fall out of Meier & Franks

Savings = 70,000 nanos

Nan Says...

If first in line to clock in, have card poised in slot

Savings = 50,000 nanos

Nan Says...

Stretch rubber bands only as far as is absolutely necessary

Savings = 100,000 nanos

Br.82s PUSHING THE ENVELOPE by Kari Waite and Teri Knott
© 2005 UNWORLD RECORDS